

Date: 08/26/2000

Larry Anderson's JawDroppers (Set of 4 videos)

Cost: about $60

Rating: 9.9 / 10!

Review: These videos are great for beginners as well as more experienced magicians! Worth every cent you pay for them! The first video, "Out of Thin Air" is a collection of about 20 tricks that are rather simple in mechanics, but added on to Larry's unbelievable presentation methods, they are keepers! He teaches the "Ultimate Utility Move", a very clever way to vanish an object or switch one for another.

The second video, "Ready, Set, Go!" is also really great. It is a collection of tricks that require a little preparation, but have a great impact on the audience.

The third video, "Well Worth It" is my favorite of all. It is a collection of real shockers, REAL shockers. The only thing about this video is that the tricks require a little more practice than the others, but if you have experience in magic, they aren't that difficult.

The last video, "Cards, Cards, Cards!" is about as good as the third one! There are some GREAT card tricks on this. Even a trick as simple as making a selected card turn over in the deck, is on there. But, the performance this guy puts into it, makes it professional quality! He has a wonderful selection of Svengali Deck tricks, if you get the bonus with it.

The reason I didn't give it a full 10, is that in the beginning of each video is about 5-10 minutes of him talking about how not to reveal the secret, not repeat a trick, you know, the magician's rules. Once you have watched it, you gotta spend boring time fast forwarding through it in the beginning because it is the same on each video. He also repeats a trick that was on "Out of Thin Air" on "Well Worth It", exactly the same. It is called the "Ultimate Utility Move" and actually is worth reviewing.

R.J.